WILL THEY WHISTLE ANOTHER TUNE?

The democratic newspapers have an excellent opportunity of showing the country how well they can whistle different political tunes at different times just to suit circumstances. The time has come when they can show sincerely they desire reform, and how sincerely they can defend their own record, even though "it goes their own way."

Eight years ago when Jay Hubbell, of Michigan, acting for the republicans, issued a circular calling upon federal officers for contributions with which to conduct the campaign of 1880, the democratic press of the country made a move all along the line on Jay Hubbell and the republican party. The democratic critics on that circular were steeped in vulgar slang and intense hate. The independent press was no better in its treatment of Mr. Hubbell. The circular simply aimed to do what all political parties have done from the beginning, and what they will do so long as they are in the field and purpose to make vigorous campaigns. It was not a demand for money, but an appeal for financial aid and such aid as every person should willingly contribute who holds an office of profit and trust under the government. Whether the principle is right or wrong makes no difference for the present. All parties want contributions for campaign purposes and not only get them, but it is right they should have them, if given honestly.

What the Gazette now desires to do is to print a circular issued by the chairman of the democratic state committee of Iowa. It is in spirit, if not in form, like the one which Jay Hubbell issued a few years ago, and which brought down upon the heads of republican leaders the bitter vituperations and wholesale condemnation of the entire democratic press of the country.

HEADQUARTERS Democratic State Committee of Iowa, Hawkeye City Rooms, Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 6, 1887. My Dear Sir: Our committee is now severely engaged in perfecting our organization, arranging to send speakers, documents, and workers into different parts of the state, more especially in the close counties. You, as an intelligent democrat, certainly must realize the importance of sustaining us in this work.

As you are receiving some of the fruits of our victory in 1884, I take the liberty to call on you for a voluntary contribution. Such a contribution at the time will be very acceptable, and will be instrumental, in a large degree, in aiding us in paying obligations already contracted and carrying on campaign work that we have laid out.

There is also other important legitimate campaign work that should be done, provided we are furnished the required funds. You have undoubtedly observed that the republican state committee are sending speakers and workers with speakers and workers, hoping thereby to regain their lost prestige in the state.

While you hold a federal office it is not expected that you will engage in politics in an offensive way or to the neglect of your official duties, but in the language of President Cleveland, "Individual interest and activity in political affairs are by no means condemned. Officers are neither disfavored nor forbidden the exercise of political privilege."

The question will naturally arise, how much should be contributed. Presidential postmasters are generally contributing from $25 to $50. Fourth class postmasters, $10 to $15; members of pension boards, $10 to $15; members of federal office holders in proportion to the amount of salary received as compared with the officials named above. We ask no demands nor assessments. Will you kindly reply to this communication at an early day? I am sincerely yours,

EDW. H. BUNNELL, Chairman.

EDW. H. BUNNELL, Chairman.

When the Gazette saw fit to defend the republican circular, democratic papers bounced upon it, and we're free in calling it a "scathing organ" and a representative of the "jayhubbellism" in republican politics. Now the point is, will the democratic papers bounce upon the Iowa circular and denounce Chairman Hunter for calling upon the democrats of Iowa for funds with which to fight republicans, and will they call such democratic methods "edwardianism" and have nothing to do with it? If "jayhubbellism" was bad several years ago, why isn't "edwardianism" bad now?

So the democratic press is in a corner. To be at all consistent it must give Chairman Hunter a sound scorning and demand that no contributions shall be received from any federal officeholder in Iowa, or in any state. But probably it will crawl out of the corner on the contribution question as it has on the surplus question and confess itself a coward by saying nothing. It will be interesting to note also with vigor the independent papers will denounce the Hunter circular. Let me see whether they will whistle the same tune now that they did when Hubbell's circular was issued.

When one thinks of these things, how forcibly he will be struck by the strides made in taking under a democratic president.

The late issue of the Judge has a cartoon which is well worth studying, and is entitled "The Grand Performance of the Greatest Show on Earth." It exhibits the democratic elephant diligently grinding the cyclopedic organ, while Garland, as the clown, plastered over the broadest portion of his ample anatomy with the suggestive legend, "Public Office is a Public Trust," applauds, and Ring Master Lamont hollers his heels with the whip. Gorman, the champion bareback rider, is making a successful leap through a hoop labelled "Cleveland's Reform Promises." Hill, in the flying trapeze act, has just sprung for the swinging bar marked "The Presidency." Carlisle and Morrissey are trying to ride the double team of free trade and protection democrats, while the discarded performer, Bandal, sullenly watches for the inevitable tumble. Bayard, the sword swallower, stands on the side, ready to repeat his famed performance of swallowing Canadian insolence at sight. Mr.

George William Curtis follows the procession in the humiliating guise for which his recent performances have fitted him. And a regular Barnum's circus crowd roars over the whole pit performance.

A DESPERATE BATTLE.

Struggle Between a Band of Regulators and Indian Outlaws.

THE FIGHT OCCURS IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

It is claimed that there is some hope that the republicans will carry Maryland this year. This claim, which to some may seem absurd, is based on the following facts: The democratic plurality in 1879 was 22,157, but the plurality was cut down to 15,191 for Hancock, in 1880, and Cleveland carried the state by only 11,118 against Blaine in 1884. But for the gross frauds which have been perpetrated in Baltimore for years these figures would have been reversed. The New York World (dem.) declares that there are now 30,000 bogus names on the registry in Baltimore and that a gang of criminals are and have been in practical control of the election machinery. When a democratic paper makes an admission of this kind, the democratic politics of Maryland must be corrupt indeed. The democratic administration is virtually supporting all the frauds and corruption in Maryland by keeping in office some of the men who are engineering the frauds in Baltimore. So many democrats of the better class are becoming disgusted with the methods in Maryland, that they will vote the republican ticket.

The forestry division of the department of agriculture, in a report upon forestry and the forest supplies of the United States, makes an urgent appeal to railroad managers to suspend the supplies of the country in view of future requirements. It will require this year 50,000,000 of ties for repairs alone, and as railroad lines are yearly extended the number required for this purpose will be increased. Attention is called to the fact that this drain might be borne if the ties were taken from all sorts of timber, but the supply is limited to special kinds of woods, and ties are cut chiefly from trees ten to twelve inches in diameter and from thirty to sixty years old, and this consumption of young and thirty trees reduces the future supply of timber faster than would otherwise be the case.

Things are not as sunshiny and promising in iron regions as they were months ago. They never were very promising except to a certain few engaged in boom ing the mines, but matters have taken a decided change lately and there is trouble at Gogebic. The miners want their money and can't get it and so it has been brought to obtain it. When the speculators have gotten through with Gogebic, and things get down to the sole business level, it will be seen that scores of poor men and women have been badly swindled.

Wonder if President Cleveland has seen a brighter man than his Wisconsin postmaster-general in the course of his trip—one that could upset the postal service more quickly.—Hartford Post.

Don't be too severe on Cleveland's Wisconsin postmaster-general. He has been nursing an imaginary boom for the vice presidency and has let the boys run after a while. Not long after Vilas boom started out considerably thinner, than a shingle, there will be a republican postmaster general.

An item of news from the Milwaukee Journal: "The first effect of the absorption of the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph by the Western Union, is the doing away of the 15-cent rate. Hereafter instead of fifteen cents for a night message between Milwaukee or Chicago and New York, the charge will be 50 cents." This is fulfilling the prediction of the Gazette made several days ago. Gould is bound to make the people pay nothing less than eight per cent on his watered stock.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Monroe Lake assembly held at Madison on Thursday evening, Hon. S. D. Hastings, of Madison, was elected president; Rev. F. S. Stein of Kenosha, vice president; E. G. Durant, of Racine, 2d vice president; J. E. Mosley of Madison, secretary, and Rev. W. G. Walker of Madison, treasurer. Messrs. Hastings, Stein, Durant and Mosley were chosen a committee to prepare the programme for next year.

The New York democratic press will never forgive Fred Grant for being the son of his father. The democrats never did like the father very well because he whipped them three times mighty severely—in the rebellion, and twice in running for the presidency. The grudge against the father is being laid up against the son.

The New York Mail and Express has made a canvas of the labor strength in Brooklyn, which discloses 8,140 labor voters, of whom 1,460 have hitherto been republicans and 6,680 democrats. If this canvass is correct there ought to be no doubt about the redemption of the city from the present democratic ring rule.

A New York democratic paper is entitled "The Grand Performance of the Greatest Show on Earth." It exhibits the democratic elephant diligently grinding the cyclopedic organ, while Garland, as the clown, plastered over the broadest portion of his ample anatomy with the suggestive legend, "Public Office is a Public Trust," applauds, and Ring Master Lamont hollers his heels with the whip. Gorman, the champion bareback rider, is making a successful leap through a hoop labelled "Cleveland's Reform Promises." Carlisle and Morrissey are trying to ride the double team of free trade and protection democrats, while the discarded performer, Bandal, sullenly watches for the inevitable tumble. Bayard, the sword swallower, stands on the side, ready to repeat his famed performance of swallowing Canadian insolence at sight. Mr.

Small declares his intention of attempting to convert congress. Very well. But it has been suggested that a converted congress would be no longer democratic.

IN MEMORY OF LINCOLN.

Something About the Dates Statue of the Great Emancipator to Be Unveiled in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The dates statue of Lincoln will be unveiled at Lincoln Park and formally presented to the people this afternoon at 2:30. The ceremony will consist of music, followed by the presentation address by Thomas F. Withrow, on behalf of the trustees of the dates bequest.

Then the American flags which constitute the val will be hoisted.

Afterward, Abraham Lincoln, son of Robert Lincoln, Hon. William C. Goodey, on behalf of the Board of Park Commissioners, will accept the gift and Leonard S. Swett will deliver an oration on "Abraham Lincoln."

The statue proper is that of the dead President standing erect before a chair. The latter is advanced, the weight resting on the left foot, the right foot resting on the floor, the left hand grasping the lapel, while the right hand is behind the back. The face is a remarkable one, combining all the rugged strength of Lincoln's character with that softening expression which betrayed the lavish of the softer side of his disposition. The chair is simple, with a back of four uprights and a seat of four horizontal bars.

It is a bronze statue, 8 feet high, 4 feet wide, and 3 feet deep.

It costs $10,000, and is the gift of the citizens of Chicago.

It is the largest bronze statue ever made.

Grounds on Which a Writ of Error
Is Asked.

BEFORE THE HIGHEST COURT.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Long before 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, which was the hour set for the hearing of an application for a writ of error in the Chicago Anarchist cases, the conference of the United States Supreme Court, in the United States Capitol, was surprisingly crowded with lawyers and newspaper men who were waiting to hear the proceedings. John Randolph Tucker, General Pryor, General B. F. Butler, Captain Black and all of the other counsel for the condemned prisoners were present and in unswerving consultation.

At twenty minutes to 11, Mr. Justice Harlan entered the conference room, and after greeting the counsel and directing that the newspaper men be allowed to come in and take such places as best suited their convenience, he sat down himself at his desk, and called for attention.

As soon as the room had become quiet, Justice Harlan, without waiting for any formal motion or application from the prisoner's counsel, said with a bow, "Deferred adjudication."

This is an application for a writ of error to be granted by the Supreme Court of the United States, a judgment of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, involving the liberty of one of the petitioners and the lives of the others. The trial took place in the Circuit Court of Cook County, I. L., on the 11th of November, 1886. Under the circumstances it is my duty to facilitate the consideration of any question in the case of which the Supreme Court will be asked to review the conviction of the condemned prisoners. If I should allow a writ of error, it will be to the court to decide whether the conviction is correct or not.

In this way the court will be enabled to review the conviction of the condemned prisoners.

At this stage of the trial, the court will be asked to determine whether the conviction is correct or not.
